

Supporting Our Future

Cardinal Cushing Centers

For Phil and Rita Harris, the decision to name Cardinal Cushing Centers in their will was an easy one. Their son Traves, 33, started at Cushing as a student at age 16. He now lives in a Cushing residence and participates the adult programs.

“Cardinal Cushing Centers is his home, where he’ll grow old,” said Rita. “Obviously our interest starts with Traves, but it grows from there. We want the organization to thrive for future generations.” “We would do everything possible to build the financial security of this center,” said Phil. “We’re so thankful and so passionate about the program and the wonderful job that everyone does here, I get choked up just thinking about it.”
